Maria Vasconcellos, former CCC student and instructor, becomes the first Hispanic and woman Governing Board member in 1990.

Robert Jensen is selected as the District chancellor in 1991.

LMC opens their new Music building in 1995.

LMC opened their first Brentwood Center in 1998, and moved to their current location in 2001. DVC's Margaret Leslie Student Union building opens in 1998.

LMC opens their first Brentwood Center in 1998.

Robert Jensen is selected as the District chancellor in 1991.

Stan Chin is selected as the District's first Asian American college president at LMC in 1991.

Maria Viramontes, former CCC student and instructor, becomes the first Hispanic and woman Governing Board member in 1990.

CCC's The Advocate, CCC's award-winning college newspaper, launches its online version of the newspaper in 1999.

DVC's Margaret Leslie Student Union building opens in 1998.

Charles Spence is selected as the District chancellor in 1996.

The Advocate launches its online version of the newspaper in 1999.