Adoption Budget

CONTRA COSTA COMMUNITY COLLEGE DISTRICT

2011-12 Adoption Budget

State Budget:

For the first time in many years, the state has actually approved a budget on time and ahead of the date by which community colleges must submit their budgets. While the state action is helpful, the structural flaws in the budget are problematic. The state merely increased its revenue estimates by $4 billion in an effort to get the budget done by the constitutional deadline. Recognizing that this was a last minute action lacking substantiation, the legislature incorporated triggers to make mid-year budget cuts should the additional revenue not materialize.

The triggers are as follows:

Tier 0

If between $3 and $4 billion of the added revenue is received, then no further reductions of funding will occur in 2011-12 beyond what was already removed in March of this year.

Tier 1

If the new revenue comes in between $2 and $3 billion, then the system will lose $30 million and student fees will increase from $36 to $46 per unit.

Tier 2

If less than $2 billion of the added revenue materializes, then the system will lose $72 million in addition to the Tier 1 adjustments.

Any decision to apply the Tier 1 and/or Tier 2 triggers must be made by December 15 of this year. Clearly, this means we have to wait to see what the actual budget will be until this trigger date.

In addition to the triggers, the state Chancellor's Office has indicated that the Department of Finance has over-estimated the amount of student fees that will be collected in 2011-12 and that the system may encounter a $25 million shortfall as a result. This could mean a year-end deficit in the range of .45 to .50%.

District Response:

The District has taken the position that it will budget revenue assuming Tier 2 reductions and at the same time build a class schedule to generate FTES at levels closer to Tier 0. The FTES targets could be amended for spring if timely information is received from the state that the Tier 2 trigger has been applied.

In response to the potential year-end deficit for student fees, the District Office has informed each of the colleges to anticipate and set aside funds to address this shortfall should it occur.

The District has recognized that the scale of the budget reductions needed is too large to resolve in one budget cycle and will be addressed in a multi-year plan.

Major Budget Assumptions:

- The State will defund the community college system by $517 million. This represents the “Tier 2” scenario. Impact on the District – a loss of $11.3 million, which equals an estimated 2,300 FTES reduction.
- The District will develop an FTES target for 2011-12 closer to the “Best Case” to protect potential revenue enhancement. The target will be 28,200 funded FTES.
- A one-time deficit of 0.4% of $550 thousand has been noted, but not included, in anticipation of a possible system shortfall in student fees of $25 million.

Impact of State Triggers on District:

Exhibit 1

	FTES	Revenues
2011-12 Base	30,047	$ 148,559,651
Funding Reductions enacted March 2011	(1,866)	(8,503,623)
Best Case Funding Level for 2011-12	28,181	$ 140,056,028
Tier 1 Impact - $30 million system loss*	-	(815,044)
Tier 2 Impact - $72 million system loss	(429)	(1,956,105)
District's Funding at the Tier 2 Level	27,752	$ 137,284,879
One-time student fee deficit 0.4%		(549,143)
2011-12 Apportionment Funding if Deficit Applied		$ 136,735,736

*The state Chancellor's Office has indicated that Tier 1 reductions will be treated through the deficit mechanism since it is one-time. This will not reduce the required level of FTES the District must generate. It is expected that this will be made up through the increase of student fees from $36 to $46 per unit in 2012-13.

Internal Allocation Model:

Fiscal year 2010-11 was the first full year of the implementation of the new allocation model based on SB 361. In working with the model, several issues have been identified by the colleges and the District Office. When the District implemented the new allocation model, it was agreed that after the first year an assessment would be made to determine how well it worked and what changes might be necessary. The assessment of the model began in January 2011 and continued through June 2011. Several adjustments were made that were supported by the college business officers, Chancellor's Cabinet and District Office staff. Care was taken to protect the integrity of the model and to not cause material harm to any one of the colleges or District Office operations. These changes are reflected in the Adoption Budget for 2011-12. The District business procedures will be updated to reflect the adjustments to the model.

Fiscal Year 2010-11:

The District faced not only a difficult state budget, but also had to contend with de-funding of FTES related to instructional service agreements and out-of-state athletes. The timing of this action created even more financial pressure on the District. Even so, we have been resilient and taken the necessary steps to address the situation.

Knowing that the tough times were still before us, the entire District community worked together to find ways to conserve resources, increase productivity and exercise prudence in making spending decisions. As a result, our actual general fund ending fund balance is $37,667,442, which is significantly better than what was expected when the 2010-11 year began.

Ending the year with a better-than-expected ending balance adds to our ability to prepare for and respond to the financial trouble still ahead. It provides more options in terms of crafting solution strategies. Even so, District staff will be evaluating ways to better monitor budget performance throughout the fiscal year to have a more accurate assessment of the potential ending balance.

Impact on Fund Balance:

The difference between current revenue and current expense is commonly referred to as "operating income" or alternately as "operating deficit" and is used to measure whether the budget is in balance. The District pays close attention to the relationship between operating income and expense to determine if it is structurally balanced. To the degree that expenses exceed revenue, the fund balance is impacted. In difficult fiscal times, the strength of the fund balance is vital to the District's ability to weather the financial storms hitting one after another.

Beyond 2011-12:

In building the 2011-12 budget, the District developed a budget reduction target of $21 million. This was a very major downward adjustment and had to be accomplished in just a few months. In reaching the goal, a sizable portion of the reductions were accomplished through use of the fund balance or took the form of one-time cuts. This worked for the budget year, but means that for 2012-13 about $8 million of the $21 million will have to be found again and will most likely have to come from on-going sources. That is in addition to other anticipated reductions, since the 2011-12 budget did not fully address the deficit and added costs in the form of step/column movement and health benefit cost increases are expected in 2012-13.

Depending upon the size of the anticipated deficit, value of added operational costs, and further loss of revenue, the District may need to view its approach to balancing the budget over two more years 2012-13 and 2013-14. This is illustrated on the multi-year analysis included with this document and warrants careful review.

Future Impacts for Financial Consideration:

In addition to the state funding shortfall, the District has other issues to evaluate and determine how it will address them. They may not be as immediate as the state financial crisis, but will none-the-less affect the District incrementally over time.

- Funding of long-term liabilities (banked load, vacation accrual, and retiree health benefits)
- Continued impact of increased retiree health benefit costs, and total compensation on operating funds
- Significant lawsuit with financial implications
- Loss of categorical program dollars (instructional equipment, schedule maintenance and other etc.) requiring matching funds
- Possible increase in the employer contribution to STRS

The Half-Full Perspective:

The District has had to deal with the most challenging times in California community college history. Difficult decisions had to be made at a time of uncertainty and some confusion at the state government level. In the midst of that, the District acted in a measured, steady fashion to maintain as much control over its fate as possible. The colleges, District Office, leaders throughout the District and Governing Board together exhibited the leadership necessary to minimize the anxiety staff, students and the community might have experienced during this time. The way in which the District responded could have instilled greater confidence in the District or made folks more uneasy. Based on all that has occurred to date, all those charged with managing the District have guided the organization to make it stronger and generate that confidence.
