

STUDENT FEES

As delineated in the California Community Colleges Chancellor's Office Student Fee Handbook, all mandatory student fees must be expressly authorized by statute. Under certain circumstances, as permitted by Education Code, optional student fees or charges may be assessed.

MANDATORY

Mandatory fees are generally defined as being required for registration, enrollment, entry into class, or completion of the required objectives of the class. Per California Code of Regulations Title 5, certain students may be eligible for waivers from these mandatory fees. Mandatory fees shall be charged for enrollment and nonresident tuition.

PERMISSIVE

"Required instructional and other materials" are materials which a student must procure or possess as a condition of registration, enrollment, or entry into a class and which is necessary to achieve the required objectives of a course. Course fees for student materials may be charged if the fee-supported materials are personal property that will be owned or primarily controlled by the student and will have continuing value to the student outside the classroom. The fee may not exceed the cost to the District to provide the materials, and the fee must be waived if the student is able to procure identical materials from another source.

Other certain permissive fees may be charged for optional goods or services to students or to replace lost or broken items used by students if the loss is considered beyond the expected loss threshold of conducting a program. For example, books and/or equipment issued/loaned to a student are expected to be returned in reasonable, reusable condition, and students may be charged the replacement cost if not returned or if the items are broken or unusable due to negligence. On the other hand, a certain amount of breakage/loss of small-cost items, such as laboratory glassware, is an expected cost of doing business and may not be charged to the student.

Permissive fees may be charged for the following non-inclusive list, when in compliance with all applicable codes and regulations:
